

Caroline Bradbury-Cheetham, The Kingsway School

SLE: Art and Design

Caroline is an Assistant Headteacher at The Kingsway School.

Caroline has responsibility for Teaching and Learning, Teacher Appraisal, Continuing Professional Development and the line management of three key departments.

Previously, she held the post of Head of Art for a number of years, which enabled her to lead initiatives to significantly improve breadth of provision, the quality of teaching and learning and outcomes. She has extensive experience of planning and facilitating training across the Local Authority and HEIs both within the context of Art and Design and Leadership.

Her experience of coaching staff at all levels and in providing bespoke CPD opportunities for staff has supported their development and enhanced their leadership skills.